A SOCIETY SCANDAL.

Scandal in high life seems all the rage in California at the present time. The latest departure in that line is the elopement of the beautiful young wife of millionaire Bradbury of Los Angeles with a middle aged Englishman named Ward. Although supplied with every luxury the erring woman could not withstand the allurements of the Britisher, and pawning her jewels for a song started out with the object of her affections to enjoy herself. Sporting life is not all that it is cracked up to be, as Mrs. Bradbury might well have informed us when she unexpectedly found herself gazing upon this sweet world from behind prison bars after a brief but spicy experience of four days. The latest advices from the scene of action lead us to believe that the young woman has repented her hasty action and longs once more for the quiet and repose of her husband's home.

The strike is on in the Pittsburg district among the coal miners, but the reports are so meager that it is difficult to tell the number. The officers of the Association have not heard from one-fourth of the mines, but they thought the order had been generally obeyed. News from the miners in the other coal fields indicate that opinion is divided. Some have gone out, while in other cases the men are quietly at work. President Hatchford of the Mine Workers regards the outlook for the strike as encouraging and that the miners will win.

The Turkish Government inflated with its recent victory over the Greeks is carrying things with a high hand in Eastern Europe. It is not only unwilling to deprive the faithful Mussulman of the spoils of his conquest, but is even unwilling to bring peace negotiations to a head. That a government whose existence for the past fifty or sixty years has been conditioned by the agreement of European States, should turn around and bid defiance to the combined powers is an anomaly hard to account for.

A dispatch from Washington states that the results of the first shipment of butter to the English market made experimentally by the Secretary of Agriculture, has not been very satisfactory. The Secretary says: "It is evident that unless the retailers can be reached without much extra expense in transportation, so that better relative prices can be realized, eastern creameries cannot yet afford to consider the question of exporting their products."

It is usual in the event of a holiday where an issue of the JOURNAL is to be dropped for the day, to announce the fact previously, but it was overlooked Sunday morning. The JOURNAL is not issued on Monday at any time and as Monday of the present week was considered a holiday there was no paper yesterday morning. This will explain why subscribers have not received their paper for two days.

The national conference of the People's party re-assembled at Nashville, Tennessee, yesterday. Several resolutions were introduced and referred to committees. It is reported that the conservative element controls the committee and this is not satisfactory to the Texas and Georgia delegates. There seems to be considerable pulling and hauling in the convention.

The Senate proceeded with the consideration of the tariff bill yesterday. Bacon explained his vote of the day before on the amendment to impose a tax of 5 per cent on all manufactured products. He said he had voted without due deliberation and frankly avowed his regret. Bate of Tennessee then took the floor and made a set speech against the bill.

The time for which Durrant was relieved will expire next Friday and Warden Hale of San Quentin has no conscientious scruples against capital punishment. The Supreme Court of United States will not meet before October and if Governor Budd does not interpose with another reprieve Durrant is not likely to survive another week.

BRYAN says many people whom he meets insist that he was elected because banks are failing, factories are closing and operatives are striking just as the gold men said they would if he was elected. The assurance on his part that he does not draw the salary of the President satisfies them that they are mistaken, and that if he was elected he was counted out.

The tariff bill will be sent to the House of Representatives this week and Mr. Reed proposes to send it to a conference committee immediately. It is probable that the bill will be passed and sent to the President within ten days.

The striking coal miners say that in some of the mines able bodied men working twelve hours a day could not make six dollars a month. This would not support themselves much less their families, and they decided to strike for living wages.

Bryan left Los Angeles yesterday for the north. He was accompanied by the members of the committee who met him at Sacramento.

THE FIRE BELL.

Frank Dickinson's Elegant Residence
Burned to the Ground.

Chief Hodgkinson, in view of the 4th of July and the usual danger of fire, has taken extra precautions during the past week to guard the town against loss. For several nights and until long after midnight he has traversed the back streets and alleys making a careful inspection of rubbish piles and places where a spark or a smoldering firecracker might do mischief. Several incipient fires have been extinguished before any damage could occur. An alarm was sounded on Monday for a blaze on the iron bridge, but a bucket of water put it out. Captain Gosse put out three or four small fires on the bridge during the day, none of them however were serious. The day passed by and Chief Hodgkinson was flattering himself that the town had passed through the danger period. He was doomed to disappointment, for last evening a little before 8 o'clock an alarm was sounded from the western part of town and it was soon discovered that Frank Dickinson's handsome residence on the corner of Chestnut and Fourth streets was in flames.

A steamer was quickly on the ground, but it was apparent immediately that one would avail but little and Chief Hodgkinson called for a second steamer. The big building was doomed and the firemen gave their attention to confining the fire to the one place and protecting the adjoining buildings. This was successfully accomplished, although a stiff breeze sprang up and for a time it looked as if the fire would certainly spread.

The house was occupied as a compartment house and several families lived there. Nearly all lost everything and Mr. Dickinson's family effects were a total loss. No one knows how the fire started, but all seem to be of the opinion that it originated in the basement. The first intimation that the building was on fire was when the flames burst into one of the living rooms of the house.

The loss is variously estimated at from $12,000 to $15,000. Mr. Dickinson has an insurance of $5,000, but this would not pay half the cost of the building.

The fire boys deserve especial praise for their quick work on Monday as well as promptness last evening. There were a number of strangers in town and without exception they all spoke highly of the good work that was done in confining the fire to the one piece of property. Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson were absent and the news of the loss of their home will be a severe blow to them.

WEATHER BULLETIN

The Rainfall, as a General Average,
Will Be About Normal.

(Copyright, 1896, by W. T. Foster.)

St. JOSEPH, Mo., July 5.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm waves to cross the continent from July 6th to 10th and 12th to 16th.

The next disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about the 17th, cross the west of Rockies country by the close of the 18th, the great central valleys the 19th to 21st, Eastern States the 22d. The warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 17th, the great central valleys the 19th, Eastern States 21st. The cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about July the 20th, the great central valleys 21st Eastern States July 23d.

The temperature of the week ending July 10th, as an average of the United States and Canada, will be a little above normal. North of a line drawn from Bismark by way of St. Louis and Cincinnati to Washington City the temperature will average below and south of that line above normal.

The rainfall for the week ending July 10th will, as an average, be about normal. Within a circle drawn from Minneapolis by way of Kansas City, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Charleston, S. C., Norfolk, Columbus, Ohio, Chicago and back to Minneapolis, the rainfall will be above and outside of that area below normal.

Not far from the 10th a cool wave will pass across the continent. The forecast of the heated term to follow will appear in next week's bulletin.

The body of the late John Evans, ex-Governor of Colorado, lay in state at the Capitol at Denver yesterday morning and was viewed by thousands of people. The Masons took charge of the body and the cortege was the largest ever seen at any funeral in Denver.

Dr. Mendelsohn arrived from Virginia City last evening and has again opened his offices for the treatment of eyes and the fitting of glasses. The doctor does not solicit from house to house, but gives advice and treatment and guarantees satisfaction.

Glass workers are in conference at Cleveland, Ohio, and demand increased wages. It is expected that the demand will be made to conform to the contemplated increase.

Ex-Collector of Internal Revenue O. M. Welburn is still in the county jail at San Francisco, being unable to procure bail. He indignantly refutes the charges of dishonesty.

STUDY OF GENEALOGY.

Interest in Family History and Its Cause and Effect.

The recent growth and increase of societies in which eligibility to membership depends upon the deeds of ancestors rather than upon any personal qualifications of members has resulted in a great revival of the study of genealogy in this country. There are the Sons and Daughters of the Revolution, the Society of Colonial Wars, Society of the War of 1812, Colonial Dames, Society of Mayflower Descendants, Holland Society and others, organized and organizing. To become a member of any of these a record of the family history is required.

The New York Mail and Express, which is maintaining a weekly department devoted to queries for family records and replies thereto, claims the movement is much more than a society fad or passing fancy. It asserts that it leads to a proper respect for one's ancestors, creates a desire to emulate their work for the good of one's family and country, revives an interest in American history and promotes patriotism, good citizenship and loyalty to the country. It concludes, therefore, that the movement is one to be encouraged and that every family should have a record of its own history for the benefit of its descendants.

COMMISSIONERS MEETING.

The Board of County Commissioners met yesterday. The first business disposed of was as follows: The minutes of the previous meeting were partly read when Commissioner Hymers moved that the further reading of the minutes be dispensed with until to day. It was so ordered.
S. Summerfield then appeared as attorney for J. B. Williams, the recently appointed Commissioner. The Clerk at this stage of the proceedings read a communication from Governor Sadler, which appears below. After reading the communication T. K. Hymers moved that J. B. Williams be recognized as the regular Commissioner. The motion did not meet with a second, whereupon District Attorney Julian gave it as his opinion that Mr. Beck was legally entitled to retain his seat.
Commissioner Frazer then moved that the appointment of Mr. Williams be rejected. The motion was seconded by Mr. Beck, and a vote being taken Commissioners Beck and Frazer voted yes, and Commissioner Hymers no.
The Board then adjourned until to-day. They are allowing the regular monthly bills to-day.
S. Summerfield will take the Commissioner case into the Supreme Court on a warrant of quo warrant to decide who is entitled to the seat, Williams or Beck.
SADLER'S LETTER.
DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
CARSON CITY, Nev., June 15, 1897.
To the Honorable, the Board of County Commissioners of Washoe County, Nev.—GENTLEMEN: You are hereby notified that by letter addressed to the Governor, that H. H. Beck did resign under certain conditions the office of County Commissioner of Washoe county, as expressed in said letter, a copy of which is herewith annexed, as follows:
"Reno, Nev., April 8, 1897.
"His Excellency, R. Sadler, Governor of Nevada, Carson City, Nev.—Sir: In view of serious charges, as appear in the Nevada State Journal of even date hereof, made against me as a public official of this (Washoe) county, I hereby resign said office, to-wit, County Commissioner of Washoe county, Nevada, and beg you to hold same subject to the findings of a judicial investigation which I have this day demanded and requested of the proper authorities, to-wit, the Hon. District Judge of our district and the Hon. T. V. Julian, District Attorney of my county. Unless such investigation shall find me blameless, in case such investigation shall not be had for a term of sixty days from date hereof, then, and in either event, you will consider this as my final resignation and proceed under the law to appoint my successor. In the meantime I shall consider my duties as County Commissioner suspended. Very respectfully,
"H. H. Beck."
Filed in the Governor's office April 9, 1897, and endorsed: "Accepted upon the conditions named in the resignation. R. Sadler, Lieutenant and Acting Governor." Filed in the office of Secretary of State June 14, 1897.
That in accordance thereof a commission appointing John B. Williams as County Commissioner of Washoe county was issued and signed by the Governor on the 7th day of June, 1897, and authenticated by the Secretary of State on the 8th day of June, 1897.
Attest: EUGENE HOWELL,
Secretary of State.

RENO'S CELEBRATION.

A Day of General Good Feeling and Jollification.
Reno observed Independence Day in a becoming manner. Many people were here from the surrounding country and the residents of the town generally turned out and enjoyed the day perhaps as well as they would had they gone away from home.
The features were not as elaborate as at some previous celebrations, but there was enough on the program to keep matters moving all day and far into the night.
Early in the day the sidewalks were jammed and the balconies and upstairs windows of the business houses were filled with sight seers. At 11 o'clock the procession formed on Court-house square and headed by City Marshal McNeilly as Grand Marshal and his Aides marched up Virginia street to Commercial Row and so on over the line of march. Hastings' fine band furnished excellent music and added much to the life and pleasure of the day. Company C, N. N. G., presented a nice appearance and the gaiting gun battery were out in force. Monumental Hose Company was an attractive feature. The usual car of state and floral car were filled with pretty little girls and a number of floats representing various trades and business helped to make up a very creditable parade. Muller & Stumpf, Pabst Agents, had a big float handsomely decorated and loaded with casks. A team of four white horses made the outfit quite imposing. They also had their delivery wagon decorated and accompanying the big float. Parry Bros. represented the Welland Company and had their bottling machinery and crew at work on a float as it moved along in the procession. Becker's Brewing Company also made a good showing. The Commercial Soap Company scattered samples of soaps among the crowd as its float passed along.
At the Opera House the exercises were interesting and were duly appreciated. Dr. Patterson was President of the day and opened the exercises in the usual style. The program was composed of instrumental and vocal music, the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Patrick McCarran and an oration by Hon. B. F. Curler.
In the afternoon the Horrible parade and the various races and contests amused the large audience. The bicycle parade in the evening was creditable and the day wound up with a ball at the Pavilion, which was attended by a large number of young folks and fully enjoyed.
There were a few accidents, but nothing very serious. During the blindfold race one of the contestants ran into little Bryant Coffin, knocking him down with great force and for a few moments it was thought he was badly injured, but it was subsequently found out that the little fellow was considerably bruised up but no bones broken. The surging of the crowd at one time knocked four or five grown people and children down, but none were seriously hurt.
A skyrocket toppled over while being fired on Virginia street and whizzed across the street and through J. J. Quinn's plate glass window. As a whole the day passed off pleasantly and served as a little variety in the hum drum of life.

BREVITIES.

Henry Riter does a general jobbing trade. All orders filled promptly.
Ed. Shaver and his mother were passengers for San Francisco last evening.
For your fashion books, periodicals, magazines and all kinds of novels call at Charlie Lake's.
Judge Rising, formerly of Virginia, spent Monday here and left for Hawthorne yesterday morning.
Dr. S. Pinniger, spent the day here yesterday visiting his parents and left for San Francisco last night.
Chas. Becker has an immense stock of the finest imported and domestic cigars. All the popular brands of cigarettes.
At the Riverside—P. Silva and wife, Golconda; Mrs. J. Henderson, Elko; Mrs. W. H. Brown, Chicago; J. B. Wright and Brice Bonny, San Francisco; J. B. Treadwell, Sacramento, and C. O. Wallace, Nevada.
Governor Sadler met William J. Bryan near the Utah line and accompanied him through the State. The great advocate of the people's cause addressed the people, who had turned out in crowds to hear him, at almost every station along the road. Day and night and at all hours he was called upon to make speeches and he was ever ready with a talk which was both eloquent and convincing. He never makes a mistake of which his enemies could take advantage. He talks like one inspired and illustrates his subjects by comparisons.
Bicycle Prizes.
The prizes for the bicycle parade were awarded as follows: Best decorated tandem, Chas. Nash; best single wheel, cents, Chas. Becker; second best, Manuel Simas; best single wheel, lady's, Miss Lulu Becker; second best, Miss Hattie Layton; best boys, Hally Updike; best girls, Minnie Quinn; most original, Jarvis Smith.
Teachers' Examination.
A teachers' examination will be held on Monday, the 12th of July, 1897, at the Reno High School building commencing at 9 o'clock A. M. Applicants for certificates will present themselves promptly. For information concerning the rules or the details of the examination apply to T. V. JULIAN, jy1-lw* County Superintendent.

Outside Displays
Of Fancy Groceries
are not always to be depended upon. We find it all we can do to keep the interior of the store as it ought to be, and the condition of what you are going to eat is of more importance than the appearance of something merely put on show to catch the eye.

BOALT'S MODEL GROCERY

Good Substantial
costs a little more than the unreliable sort, but many times the satisfaction and double the service ought to make it worth twice as much. Buying your grocery here will give you this additional service and satisfaction at a very slight advance over the cost of inferior ware
